Cardiologist

General Cardiologist - Surrey, BC

Surrey Memorial Hospital (SMH) is inviting applications for the position of a General Cardiologist. SMH is located in the Lower Mainland and is part of the Fraser Health Authority. It is the 2nd largest hospital in BC with over 600 beds, and has the busiest ER department in the province. Inpatient cardiology is provided in a 7 bed CCU and a 22 bed telemetry ward. Diagnostic cardiology procedures including echocardiography and nuclear medicine studies are provided both at SMH and the nearby Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgery Centre. Outpatient clinics include Heart Function, Lipid, Pacemaker and Cardiac Rehabilitation clinics.

The Royal Columbian hospital nearby is the closest cardiac catheterization laboratory and the regional cardiac surgery centre.

The successful applicant will join the Cardiology Department that consists of 12 cardiologists and will participate in the cardiology on-call service, ward service, and electro-diagnostic interpretation (including echocardiography) as well as the supervision and teaching of Family Medicine and Cardiology residents.

The applicant must have CMPA membership, be eligible for licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC, and hold a FRCP(C).

Please forward all enquiries to Dr. Stephen Pearce: stephen.pearce@fraserhealth.ca
